ABOUT

I'm Aoife and I'm a 20 year old designer, currently studying Interaction design in the Belfast School of Art and design. I am an enthusiastic, hard-working, and sociable individual with experience in multiple creative design projects. I possess an everlasting love for typography, Illustration and user interface design.

Eager to learn through doing, I positively contribute to the team effort and innovation in the work place. I would consider myself a people person and greatly enjoy working and interacting with others.
